

LUXE BUYS

Peacock pride

The statement Altiplano Feather Marquetry timepiece comes in an 18K white gold case. Set with 78 brilliant-cut diamonds (approx. 0.71 carat), the dial in peacock, duck and rooster marquetry, is partially covered with silver leaf. It features the Manufacture Piaget 430P mechanical hand-wound movement, and the eventful strap is adorned with striking peacock feathers.

int.piaget.com

Wing it

Busy birds, show off your plumes for the festive season's luxe trend

Parrot parade

Decorated with feathers, crystals, séquins and beads in kaleidoscopic parrot artwork, the Dionysus bag is crafted in coated-carwas and violet suede. Spacious internal compartments and a push clasp-fastening front flap are among its highlights. gucol.com

Flight mode

We love the Feather Collection from New York-based couture jeweller Payal Mehta. Inspired by soaring freedom and the elegance of birds in flight, the collection comprises stunning 18K white-gold leather rings with diamonds, and a diamond feather cuff and necklace. Pair with any cocktail outfit for an evening soirée. payalnewyork.com

Quilled prints

Feathers are a focus for Paul Smith this season, as a colourful new print features throughout the men's and women's collections. For men, the vibrant feather graphic is printed onto nylon bumber jackets, hats, shirts and pocket squares. It also makes for a subtle accent on jacket and pocket linings. Single feathers are also embroidered onto key outerwear and tailoring styles.

paulsmith.com

Feathery footing

Head to London label Rogue Motilda for the Birde shoe, which features a peacock-inspired kitten. With its wipe-down upper and waterproof plumage, this unique, sophisticated pair will elevate any look from desk to dinner. roguemotilda.com

